News Briefs

Deer Knocked Into Travel Trailer

The Crawford County Sheriff Dept. received a report on Tuesday, Nov. 7, that a deer was inside a travel trailer in the parking lot of the Red Barn.

The spike horn buck had entered the trailer, owned by Roger Bregg of Reed City, through the front window after the deer had struck the side of Bregg's vehicle and became airborne.

The accident occurred at approximately 5:50 p.m. as Bregg was traveling westbound on M-72 West near AuSable Trail.

When the Sheriff deputy arrived, the deer was still inside the trailer, but was severely injured and thrashing about. As preparations were being made to remove the deer, it jumped back out the same window he entered and headed toward M-72. After the deer had crossed the highway, the deputy destroyed the animal.

Car-deer accidents continue to plague motorists in Crawford County. Sheriff Dept. records for November 6-12 report 19 car-deer accidents.

Citizens Offer Reward for Info On Missing Pets

Some local pet owners have joined together to offer a $1,000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for several missing pets in the area. The owners believe their pets, mostly cats, were taken recently.

Anyone with information can call the Crawford County Sheriff Dept. which has started an investigation into the missing pets.

City Names Nov. 16 'Sandy Thompson Day'

Two city councilmen, finishing out their terms of office this week, were honored by the Mayor of Grayling, Robert Golinick.

Golinick proclaimed Thursday, Nov. 16, as "Sandy Thompson Day" in honor of his 15 years of service on the city council from 1974 to 1989. Thompson also served as Mayor of Grayling from 1979 to 1987.

Golinick also presented Wm. Dennis Sloan with a proclamation honoring him for his years of service to the city. Sloan served from 1981 to 1989 on the city council and he also is active in the Grayling City and Township Fire Dept.

Celebration of Lights Begins November 24

Join the Grayling Promotional Association at the Crawford County Courthouse for the "Celebration of Lights at 6 p.m. with Santa's arrival at 8:45 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. on Friday, November 24.

For those of you that may not be familiar with the "Celebration of Lights", it began in 1986. Members of the Grayling Promotional Association decided to welcome the Spirit of Christmas to Grayling by turning on all their holiday lights in businesses and homes alike on the same day.

One Month Old Stops Breathing in Store Mother, Police Aid Baby's Breathing

by Irene Pettyjohn

An ambulance was dispatched at 10:23 a.m. to Glens Market on Wednesday, November 8, for a one-month old infant who had stopped breathing.

When officers Karl DeVries of the Grayling Police and Art Clough of the Sheriff Dept. arrived they found the mother of the infant, Laura Owens, in one of the back aisles of the store with her head down over the body.

"I asked her if she was giving the baby CPR," said Clough, "and she said yes."

Clough said he proceeded to look, listen and feel to check for a pulse and to see if the baby was breathing. As far as he could determine, the baby was not breathing and Officer DeVries agreed.

At about this time, Clough said the baby started aspirating and his lungs began filling with formula and whatever else was coming from his mouth. The baby's eyes were closed and he was pale.

Clough then began mouth-to-mouth resuscitation while he carried the baby in his arms down the aisle and out to the patrol car. DeVries drove to the hospital while Clough continued mouth-to-mouth. Mrs. Owens rode in the backseat.

"About five minutes after we arrived at the hospital the baby started to cry," said Clough. "It was nice to hear. It felt great. That's all that really mattered."

Clough said he later learned that the baby, James, one of a pair of prematurely born fraternal twins, was later transferred by North Flight helicopter service to Munson Medical Center in Traverse City. He said that during the flight it was necessary to use an automatic resuscitator on the baby because he could not breathe for himself. The infant was transferred from Munson to Butterworth Hospital in Grand Rapids where he is listed in critical condition as of Monday. His brother has also been admitted for observation. Both infants have been using Apnea monitors since their release from the hospital to monitor their breathing patterns. The monitors beep when the babies stop breathing.

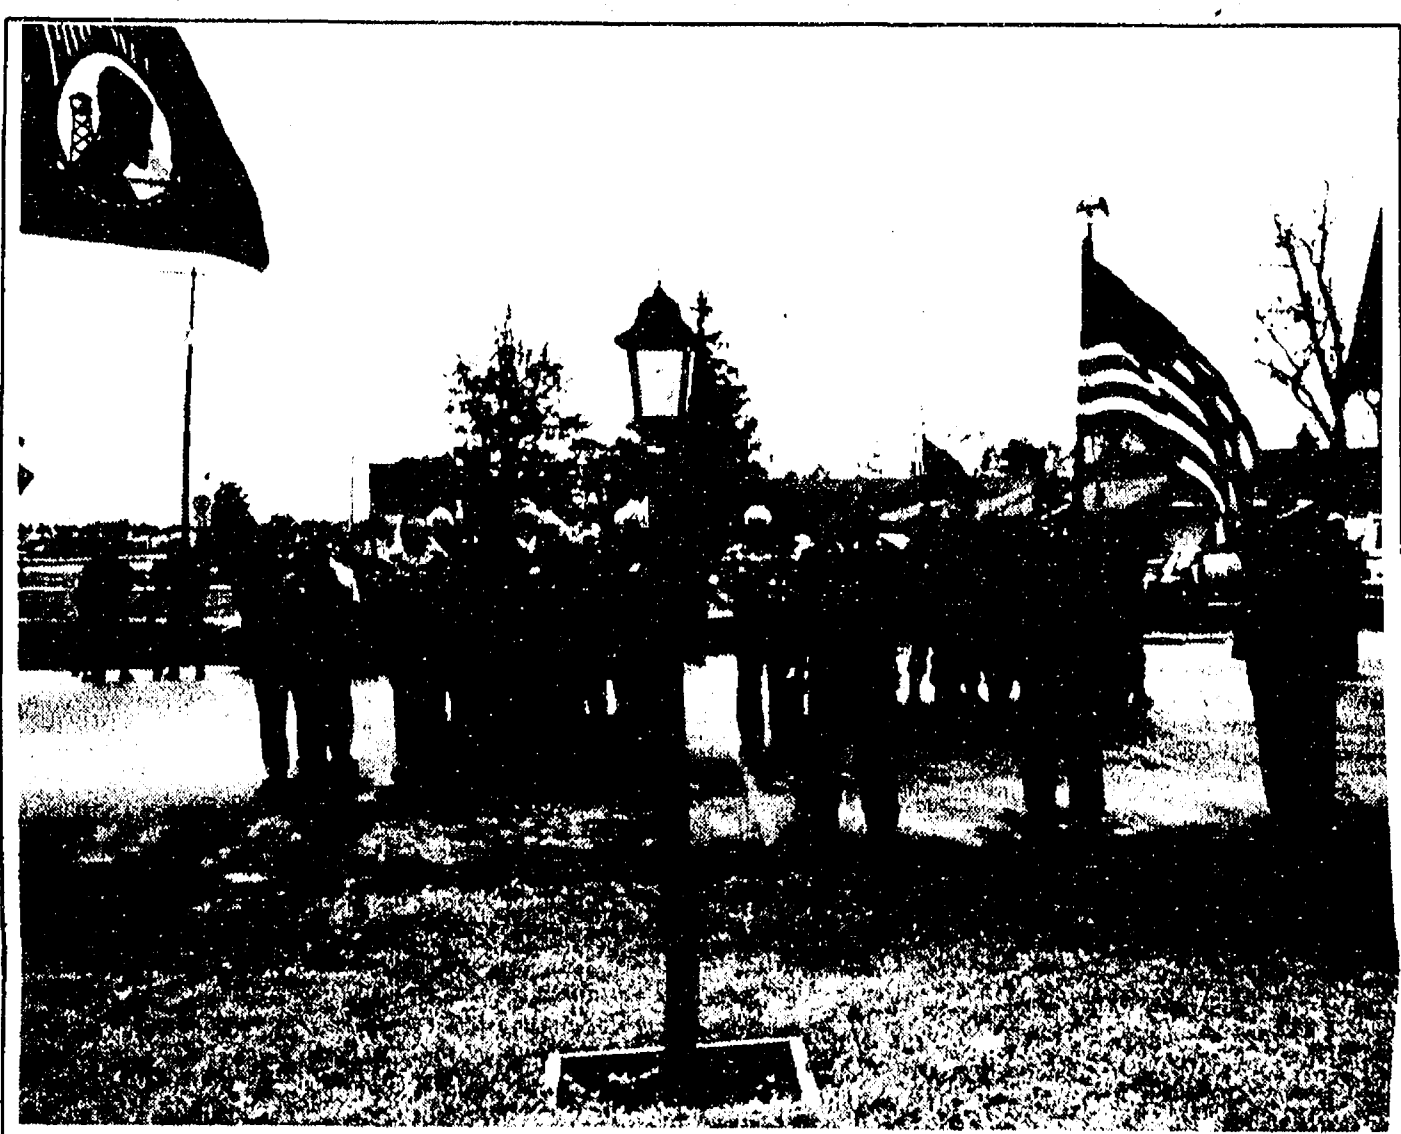

"The emergency situation involved the element of time," said Sheriff Hatfield. "The ambulance was gassing up when the call was received and met the patrol car at the South light. The decision was made not to take the time to transfer the baby to the ambulance," he said.

"We had two officers well trained who knew what to do, evaluated the situation, did what needed to be done, and may have helped to save the child's life," he said. "The officers involved were professionals and it was aces all the way."

Mr. and Mrs. Owens are staying with the twins in Grand Rapids. They have four other children at home.

As of Tuesday morning, Mrs. Owens said the doctors anticipate the baby will be in the hospital for two to three months as they monitor his condition.

Anyone wishing to help the family may contact the Crawford County Dept. of Social Services.

VETERAN'S DAY CEREMONY - Veterans from the D.A.V. #135 of Houghton Lake, the American Legion #106, V.F.W. #3736, the Michigan National Guard Color Guard and the 1480th Firefighters of Camp Grayling met in front of the Copper Kettle on Saturday, November 11, to remember all veterans, especially those who are still listed as Missing In Action in Viet Nam.

Rotary Donating $10,000 For Fairground Ballfields

The members of the Grayling Rotary Club have agreed to invest $10,000 over the next two years for athletic fields at the Crawford County Fair Grounds.

Already available for starting the task of clearing and leveling the ground is the first $3,000. The work, according to Crawford County Fair Association (CCFA) President John Naour, should begin now so that some of the area can be seeded in the spring. He said that plans call eventually for constructing soccer and softball fields as well as space for T-ball games.

Circuit Court Judge Alton T. Davis, vice president of the CCFA and a Rotary Club member, played an important role in persuading the membership that the long range project is an important one for the recreational needs of young children. Naour and Davis emphasized that the younger persons will benefit from the development and that presently only the Little League Field is available to them.

Naour pointed out that the CCFA members have long felt that the area should serve a continuing purpose rather than one that is used only for the four days annually during the fair. He noted that traditionally 4-H members play a large role in the programs at the fair grounds and they will also now have the athletic fields for their use.

"The total cost of the project will exceed the Rotary Club investment in the recreational opportunities for our children," Naour said. "We (CCFA) expect to discuss the need for additional funds with all of the local civic organizations," he said. The entire development will cost in excess of $25,000, he noted, but will proceed only by developing individual fields as money permits.

Rotary Club members suggested that organizations contributing to the athletic development be recognized by naming the particular area where their investment is concentrated after that club. Naour said that the suggestion had already been discussed and that donations large or small would be identified by appropriate name or plaque. For instance, he said, if an organization's money was used for a set of bleachers they would be identified by a plaque recognizing that fact.

Naour said that it is the intent of the CCFA to apply for any available recreation grants as well to complete the overall development.

The Rotary Club will be investing in the children's area with the proceeds of their annual Contest Calendar sales. The calendars are now available from any Rotarian at a cost of $25. Some local residents who purchased calendars last year have won at least double their investment.

Benefit to Help Local Athlete

Olympic Quest, a benefit dinner to help Brett Stockton with training expenses for the 1992 Olympics, will be held at the Grayling K of C Hall Saturday, Nov. 25.

Stockton is coming off a good year in 1989 competition. After working out at the Olympic training camp in Melbourne, Florida, he finished 2nd in both the 500 meters and 1,000 meter kayak races at the Olympic Sports Festival regional trials in New York City in May.

In the U.S. Olympic Festival Games in Oklahoma City in July he won a bronze medal in team boat competition.

In the national championship in August at Indianapolis he finished 2nd in 10,000 meters.

In one-man canoe racing, Stockton won the state championship in June and finished 4th in the nation at the championship races in Wisconsin in August. He also finished 3rd in the nation in the two-man canoe races in California this year.

Stockton, a Grayling resident, is aiming at competing in the Olympic Sports Festival Games in July in Minneapolis and in the national kayak championships in August.

The spaghetti dinner and dance afterwards will raise money for Stockton's training expenses.

Entertainment at the dinner and dance will be provided by local "Free Wheelin' Fred" and singer Sandy Metevia. Metevia was the talent winner in the Miss Michigan 1989 Pageant and is Crawford County residents may soon be able to buy their Burger King Whoppers locally if the county road commission accepts King Ventures' offer to purchase the commission's property on the corner of State Street and M-72 East.

David Sabin, road commission attorney, presented a review of the offer from Burger King to the commissioners at their November 10 board meeting. The commissioners do not want to disclose dollar amounts at this time while the offer is still being considered.

Sabin explained to the commissioners that in addition to the offer to purchase, Burger King's offer was accompanied by a rider which contained seven more conditions of the purchase. Three of these conditions would be met by Burger King and four would be left for the road commission to meet.

Chairman Norman Parker said King Ventures' offer was more than both commercial appraisals of the property conducted in 1987 by Alpine Appraisal Company of Gaylord and Garry Zachritz of Traverse City.

Sabin suggested that, since the appraisals were two years old, the board update the appraisals before they act on the sale of the property.

UNITED WAY GOAL — D.J. Brown and William Kraus show how much the $15,000 helped toward the overall goal of $55,000.

Auction Raises $15,000

The 1989 United Way Auction raised over $15,000 to be contributed to the total goal of $55,000 for Crawford County. The celebrity auctioneers provided the highlight of the evening as they offered their unusual gifts.

Ray and Sharon Priebe were the high bidders for the beautiful llama auctioned by Tom Hunt. Joe Rairick, a relative newcomer to Grayling, really got into the auction. Joe was the high bidder for Paul Thomson's Italian gourmet dinner for 8. He was also the high bidder for an afternoon of a Cadillac Sedan Deville auctioned by Brad Scheer, and also the great car auctioned by John Jones.

The evening at the Mackinaw Yacht Club given by Judge Davis was bid by Jim and Joanne Shiveley. The AuSable Dixieland Band entertained everyone throughout the evening, and Dr. and Carol Ramaswamy were the high bidders for a Dixieland Band performance. Dr. and Mrs. Ramaswamy were also the winning bidders on the progressive dinner given by Mercy Hospital.

The United Way auction is only possible because local merchants donate so generously. Without their help it wouldn't happen. In addition, the people of Crawford County who attend the auction open their hearts to help United Way fund agencies that need financial assistance in order to continue their excellent services.

Not Knowing Where Pet Went Is Worst Feeling of All

As with Halloween each year this one came and went in an uneventful way for most people. But for several families in Crawford County a beloved pet came up missing as the day of witches and warlocks drew near. Most of these pets were cats - black cats, and a few were different colors. Some were young, others were pets owners had loved for many years.

Where have our pets gone? Do you know that the animal shelter does not adopt black cats near Halloween?

Last year a black cat was found, hung by the neck and its tail had been removed. Animal Control heard that it had been hung in a supposed satanic ritual and the tail decorated a high school locker. The news traveled as fast back to school as it did to Animal Control and the locker held no evidence upon its inspection. Did our pets suffer the same fate as this poor animal, killed for some teenager's pleasure? Or perhaps they met some other fate at the hand of someone you know?

Those of us who have lost our pets have banded together to offer a large reward for information leading to the conviction of those responsible. We hope that perhaps we can save someone else from the distress caused by the loss of a beloved pet. Not knowing what has become of them is the worst feeling of all.

If you know anything that may be of help, please phone.

Opinions

Reader Suggests Chamber Seek Higher Purpose

Board of Directors
Chamber of Commerce

I find it hard to believe that your Board authorized and approved the letter to Dan Alstott in the August 31, 1989 Avalanche. Deborah Barry's zeal in criticizing Mr. Alstott would be better directed at recognizing his accomplishments. It is evident from her letter, as it was in her remarks on the guard's Draft Environmental Impact Statement, that she knows little about the depth of this issue of citizen concern.

Grayling and the AuSable/Manistee River basin community have lived in harmony with the Michigan National Guard for years. The AuSable/Manistee Action Council (AMAC), of which Mr. Alstott is the voluntary executive unpaid director, has continuously endorsed and supported that activity.

AMAC was born out of the legitimate concern over the development of the proposed $13 million multi-purpose range complex (heavy). The ultimate scheme for Camp Grayling, as everyone now knows, turned out to be a plan to sacrifice this beautiful northwoods paradise, and the economic future of Grayling, for a full scale army fort. So, the people who really own America - you and I, went to war with the military. We listened through hearing after hearing as an endless line of well educated and well informed citizens, including many combat veterans, laid the guard's draft EIS to rest.

In the early stages of the struggle to control

Camp Grayling, there was some community divisiveness.

The Crawford Board of Commissioners told AMAC in 1988 that "our people" had no economic ties to the community. A little research, however, revealed that, in Lovells Township alone, non-resident landowners were paying 75% of the private land taxes. A commissioner admitted to me privately, that my contention that non-residents were assessed (and thus taxed) at a higher rate was true.

As a retired nine month resident of the Grayling area, I wonder where it is that I am a full time resident. I spend the bulk of my income here, as do many of my neighbors. If I total the purchases, including our home in 1984, remodeling, lumber, concrete, windows, paint, fuel, carpenter, services, food, meals, entertainment, etc., it is a very sizeable sum. Our expenditures for consumer goods are increased dramatically during the summer months by visiting family and friends. That scenario is typical of the non-resident landowner. The biggest difference between us and the year round Grayling resident may only be that many of us are older, retired and possibly have more time to be involved in this crisis. Some of us also have long years of involvement in other area Chambers of Commerce. That experience tells us that boards such as yours sometimes tend to speak for a small percent of a community's business people.

I hope that my letter will provide some food for thought for the Chamber's Board of Directors. AMAC, and its directors, have a higher purpose than to argue with the Chamber. I would suggest that you instruct your Executive Director to also seek a higher common goal. The real issue at stake, in Grayling, is whether the environment and the present, well balanced, economic base of the area will ultimately be destroyed by a giant military expansion. The AuSable/Manistee valley would then be ripe for the development of toxic waste disposal and dirty industry.

Northern Views

By Jon Thompson
Avalanche Editor

When people in Crawford County discuss ambulance service or overtime for police patrols, it's important to set priorities straight.

Top-notch police and ambulance service has to be right at the top of budget priorities. If the money comes up short, cut in other places -- not ambulance or police services.

Last Wednesday morning a one-month-old baby stopped breathing at Glen's Market in Grayling. An emergency call goes out in a situation like this and suddenly the heavy weight of trying to save a baby's life is transferred immediately into the hands of police officers or ambulance personnel.

When a baby or someone else in this county needs help, we want well-trained professionals there.

They have very tough jobs. How many of you have passed judgement on police officers and ambulance personnel without ever having been in their shoes? Have you ever been in a life threatening situation? Have you ever been expected to perform under pressure when your actions can make the difference between saving or losing a life?

No one in the county advocates unnecessary spending for emergency services. I don't think too many places around this neck of the woods have a lot of fat in their operations.

Let's allow the police officers and ambulance personnel to do their difficult work without having to worry excessively about financial problems.

After seeing some of the work these men and women do, they deserve our support.

Animal Control Officers Work Magic

Dear Editor,

Sometime ago, I wrote to you expressing concern about the increased fees at the Animal Shelter. Since then, we have been involved in helping build dog pens and houses and had a chance to see the workings of the shelter.

The dog census has brought income to the coffers (county or shelter?).

Since the Animal Control Officer had hurt her back, we worked with Mrs. Dixie Lobsinger (her assistant). Dixie organized the dog house project and arranged a place to work with the aid of the Sheriff's Dept.

Since we got involved, we have seen the progress out there. Less euthanasia and more homes. More leader dogs and even one dog went to be a "sniffer" for the State Police!

Now Marge is back and we truly hope the combination of these two fine officers will work their magic for the dept. I realize it will never be able to support itself but Dixie's census and the sale or fees for adoption etc. will help ease the tax burden.

Welcome back Marge - Thank you Dixie and keep up your good work. We all need you and so do the animals.

Big goals need big ideas

BIG THINKERS pursuing big goals think big thoughts.

Take for example a couple of personalities as unlike as Ted Turner and Alex Haley, both of whom recently addressed the annual convention of the National Newspaper Association in Atlanta, Ga.

Their common goal: To make the world a better place.

That's a big goal, which commands big thoughts and big ideas. Ted Turner and Alex Haley are both up to the challenge.

TED TURNER HAS always been a big thinker. He's a bootstrap type entrepreneur, starting his business career with a small-time outdoor advertising business and moving gradually but surely to international fame in the broadcast/entertainment business.

He's into cable TV and radio and satellite transmissions. He owns the Atlanta Braves baseball team and Atlanta Hawks basketball team and the Omni hotel-arena-office complex in downtown Atlanta. He started CNN news network and CNN headline news and beams his WTBS Atlanta TV station nationwide.

There's more to the Turner enterprises, but that's enough to make the point: Ted Turner is big and he's innovative and he thinks big thoughts.

BUT HE'S WORRIED about the future of the world, Mr. Turner told the small-town newspaper folks at the NNA meeting. He's fed up with the doom and gloom attitude about what the world's coming to; he cited such movies as "Dr. Strangelove" and "Fail Safe" and "The Day After" and "Soylent Green."

"I saw every one of them," he told the editors. "Disaster movies."

He wants to encourage more positive attitudes about the future of the world.

Mr. Turner said he's putting together a contest that will award a half-million dollars to the writer who can produce a book providing the most positive view of the world's future. The whole contest will cost about $1.5 million, he said.

It will be a world wide competition, and Mr. Turner promised to get the best offerings published -- and probably make movies out of them, too.

His reasoning: Disaster movies reflecting the doom-and-gloom view of the world's future start with books, which first reflect that sad view. Thus, to frame a more positive view of the future, the world needs more optimistic books.

"Hopefully, we'll have hundreds of writers, or maybe thousands of them, around the world focusing and thinking about different scenarios that take a positive view of the future," Mr. Turner explained.

Maybe he's got something in this idea; you've got to give him credit for trying.

But I'd feel more comfortable about Ted Turner's ideas if they were spurred by some sources other than "Dr. Strangelove" and "Soylent Green."

AUTHOR ALEX HALEY, whose epic study "Roots" is recognized as a masterpiece, has a more personal approach to promoting a better world. He wants to do it person to person, family to family.

Mr. Haley recalled that when he was in Africa, visiting his ancestral village which produced Kunta Kinté, he was introduced to his fifth and sixth cousins, who were still in the area. They were descendants of Kunta Kinté's brothers who remained in Africa when Mr. Haley's ancestor was hauled off to slavery in America.

Somewhat similar Dr. Dumas of voluntary separation throughout the world, Mr. Haley said, where families divided so that one brother or sister would go to the New World in America, while others would remain in the original family home areas.

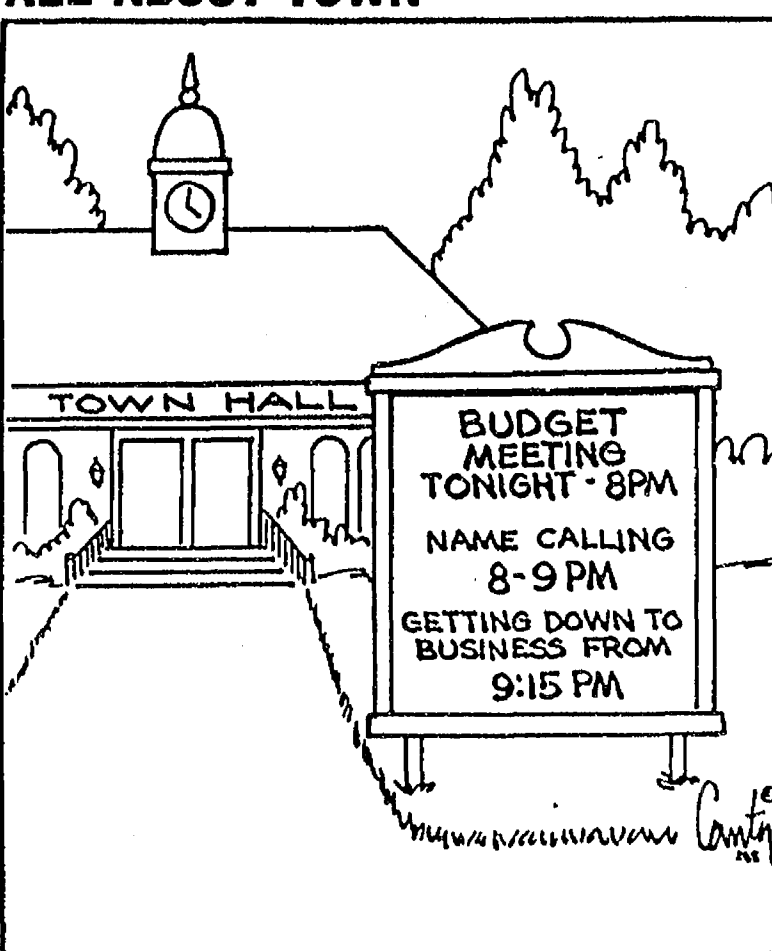

Through the years and succeeding generations dozens of cousins developed worldwide. Why not track down these roots in foreign lands, and get today's fifth and sixth and seventh cousins to renew family ties? Americans should go to Poland or Italy or Denmark to visit their remote cousins, and their cousins should visit their relatives here in America.

It would be an effective way to promote world peace, Mr. Haley believes.

"How could anyone shoot at their own cousins," he reasons.

Maybe Alex Haley has a good idea here, too. He calls his project simply "Cousins." We'll all be hearing more of it in the future.

Let's Talk About It

By Joe Murphy

This weekend 4-5 November we are getting a little sample of winter weather--snow, cold wind, just blah weather. I just have a gut feeling that this winter is going to be a real bummer. We have had some pretty nice winters the past few years but now I feel it's time to pay the piper. I can recall some of those winters back when I was a kid when we really had snow, snow and more snow. Up at the old farm the horses and cattle could go anywhere they wanted. They had trails that passed right over the fences.

If a storm threatened, I would go up to the farm and wait them out. Someone had to be there to feed the livestock. For a week sometimes I held down the fort till the county got the roads opened up. The old cabin at the farm was not built for cold weather, even with the stove fired up to freezing red the water pail would grow up inside the cabin. If the wind was blowing it was not uncommon to wake up with snow piled up on my blankets. I sometimes wonder why I remember those days with such fondness.

In those old time days about the only way we had for getting around in the winter was a good pair of snowshoes. If it was a decent day as soon as I had my chores done, I liked to strap on my snowshoes and take a hike. If there was a crust on the snow, then an inch or two on top of the crust, it was a real nice way to travel. Under good conditions snowshoeing was a lot easier than walking on bare ground. You had a nice smooth surface to walk on, without the jolts and jarring of normal walking. I still have a couple of pairs of snowshoes around but the quality can't compare to those good old Tubb's shoes I used to have. If you have some of those good old shoes around you want to sell give me a call.

I hope by the time this is published in the paper I will have tagged a nice plump little buck. Anytime, I go hunting for prime-eating-size bucks and I'm happy to leave the real big ones for someone else. I really can't get too shook up if I don't get one because I've had my share over the years. I still like to be out there hunting but anymore the kill is not very important to me. If I get my chance at a good little buck and don't have far to drag it out I just might be eating venison chops with my pancakes this winter. Hope all you hunters have a good safe hunt.

Reader Questions White Lights For Christmas

Dear Jon:

I am writing you with my complaint for the G.P.A.

I do not understand what it is about the white lights that is suppose to remind us of Christmas. It does not remind me of Christmas. It reminds me of winter and we already have enough winter around here.

Why can't we be like other cities and have the pretty colors?

Several people, besides myself, drive to surrounding cities to see the beautiful, multi-colored lights. I wish the G.P.A. would reconsider their non-Christmas idea and let Grayling be beautiful again for the holidays.

Reader Says Ignoring Pollution Is Wrong

We know that we should give the system one more chance, but we do this with great hesitation, because it is evident that the state & federal governments have a long way to go as far as providing strong, safe, and honest air emission controls and standards. It is time to demand that polluting industries (especially in rural and wilderness areas such as Crawford Co.) be totally responsible for their past, present, and future contaminations before our lives, our environment, and our natural resources are permanently damaged for generations to come.

It is also time for Michigan to wake up to the fact that this state is one of the unhealthiest states in the nation, ranking 48th out of 50 in a study done by Northwestern National Life Insurance Co. In the disease factor, Michigan ranks the highest in rate of major illness. We must face some brutal facts, residents in this state are abusing their health, and are having to breathe very dirty air, and drink dangerously contaminated water in far too many counties statewide. The shocking truth is that Michigan has the worst disease rate of any state and our elected officials and state agencies are simply not addressing this important issue.

Air permits, water permits, and the like are given far to readily to polluting industries. In this state, as with many states, industry holds sway over serious environmental issues. It is all too evident that the pollutants of inadvertent industrial growth come first and the quality of life come in a poor and weak second.

We cannot pick up a paper, magazine, or book that does not have extremely credible accounts of the dire effect of toxic waste contaminates concerning our well being. Yet scientist & experts who dare to speak out for environmental rights are labeled as "Self appointed pressure groups who represent radical trouble makers." When are we going to stop this syndrome of denial, and wake up to the harsh reality that our planet can no longer endure so much abuse before irreparable damage is done. As one area resident stated, "Most of us moved to Northern Michigan for sweet air and clean water, and we're losing it to polluting industries."

We must choose between providing a mecca, and a haven for tourism and outdoor sports activities, or become vast wastelands given over to polluting industries.

ACT released two little helium filled balloons that were sent up from Beaver Creek in Crawford County in October, and one was found seven miles north of Midland, the other was found forty miles south of Toronto Canada! We can surely wonder just how far the winds of poison travel, and do we want to take the responsibility for their awful message: "No matter where you go, no matter where you live, if I am an air born contamination, I can find you!"

It has never been easy to stand for a cause, particularly when economics and personal gain are involved. To put food on the table, has been man's main concern since time began, and that is the point of all of this discussion. If we permanently befoul our air, water, and soil nothing will live and flourish for our consumption. Are we so suicidal that we must destroy ourselves with our own contaminations? It is not wrong to say no to pollution, it is wrong to ignore it! Isn't it about time that we tried to control our consumptive appetites, so that we won't have to borrow from our grandchildren's future!

The road commission's buildings were built at various times. The office complex of 2808 sq. ft. was completed in 1980. The old office and stock room was built in 1956 and it is estimated that portions of the garage were built as early as 1929. Commissioner Parker said the garage is so small that they are unable to get several large pieces of equipment inside.

He said the county purchased the property from the State Highway Department sometime in the 1940's.

"We have really outgrown this facility," said Commissioner Gloria Kraus.

Commissioner Kraus said that the one major condition that the road commission has for the future purchaser is that they cannot vacate the property in 30 or 60 days. Because the commission is planning to build a new facility, they will need time to complete the construction project which has not even been started.

"The board has to sell this property in order to determine how much money we need to borrow for the new facility," explained Clyde Anthony, commissioner.

The board said they will be scheduling a meeting with Doug Basel, architect for R. S. Scott and Associates, an engineering consulting firm from Alpena, to finalize the plans for the new office and garage complex.

Tawas Stops Vikings

Grayling played good ball for three quarters Monday, November 13, against top rated Tawas in district finals. At one point during the third quarter Grayling held a one-point lead, but costly turnovers and a let down in rebounding in the fourth quarter allowed Tawas to take an eleven point lead that was too much for Grayling to overcome and Tawas won, 58-47.

"Grayling was whistled for the first nine fouls in the second half and never shot a one-on-one in the entire second half," said Viking coach Howard Lehti.

Grayling shot 50 percent from the line, shooting 2 for 4.

Melanie Ojala led her team in scoring with 16 points, 3 rebounds and 7 assists.

During the Tawas game, Melanie broke her own record set last season of 103 steals and set a new school record of 108. On Thursday, against Cheboygan, Melanie broke her assist record of 85 and ended the season with 96.

Other scores were made by: Nikki Morrill 13, 5 rebounds and 2 assists; Heather Stephenson 9, 6 rebounds and 3 assists; Claudine Allen 3 points; Nikki Trenary 2, 8 rebounds and 2 assists; Margarita Perez 2, 1 rebound and 3 assists and Janet Bickford 2 and 2 rebounds.

"Grayling, playing without 5 ft. 10 in. center, Michelle Burcham, who has been a strong point in rebounding all year, still gave Tawas a run for their money," said Lehti.

Grayling Ends League Play at 13-5

After trailing Cheboygan for the first three quarters last Thursday, November 9, Grayling came back and turned in an excellent fourth quarter to capture the win in their final game of the regular season, 55-43.

"Cheboygan shot the eyes out of the basket the first half," said Coach Howard Lehti.

"They were shooting about 65 percent and taking shots from outside that we were willing to give them in hopes that Cheboygan would cool down later in the second half. They did," he said, "and that proved to be the difference in the ball game."

Lehti said Grayling's offense started to click in the fourth quarter. The girls tried a little different type of press that worked as planned.

"We had good shooting by Nikki Morrill, Michelle Burcham, Heather Stephenson and Melanie Ojala in the fourth quarter," he said.

Michelle Burcham led her team with 18 points and 8 rebounds. Heather Stephenson followed with 12 points, 5 rebounds and 6 assists; Nikki Morrill

10 points, 4 rebounds and 5 assists; Nikki Trenary 7, 6 rebounds and 5 assists; Melanie Ojala 6, 1 rebound and 4 assists; Margarita Perez 2 and 1 rebound; Janet Bickford 6 rebounds and 1 assist.

What was the worst weather in which any football game was ever played? There've been lots of games in bad weather, but many experts say the worst ever was the Ohio State-Michigan game in Columbus, in November, 1950. The game was played in a blinding snowstorm that was so bad, players often couldn't see beyond the line of scrimmage, and spectators often couldn't see anything. Yard lines were obliterated. In the game, Michigan made NO first downs and completed NO passes, yet won the game by scoring on a safety and a blocked kick.

Which famous sports league was founded in an automobile showroom? On Aug. 20, 1920, a group of men from around the country held a meeting at an automobile dealer's showroom in Canton, Ohio, and the National Football League was born.

Here's a sports quiz for you...See if you can name the countries where the following sports were invented: Soccer, bowling, volleyball and auto racing. Here are the answers. Soccer was invented in England. Bowling began in Germany. Auto racing was started in France. And, volleyball was invented in America.

Keeping Healthy

Balance Disorders

Chronic dizziness, ringing in the ears, and related disorders afflict some 60 million Americans. A common cause of such disorders is perilymph fistula—a tiny hole or break that allows fluid to leak from the inner to the middle ear. A simple outpatient procedure can repair the leak—once it is diagnosed. Until recently, diagnosis of perilymph fistula was difficult. But researchers at The University of Texas Southwestern Medical Center in Dallas have adapted an old technique to flag this disorder. The technique, electrocochleography (ECoG), which records the impulses generated in the inner ear in response to sound, has traditionally been used to determine hearing thresholds.

Foster Grandparents Needed in County

The Foster Grandparent Program needs Senior Citizens who would like to work with children. Foster Grandparents volunteer 20 hours per week working directly with children. They are paid a non-taxable stipend of $2.20 per hour, transportation expenses are reimbursed and a daily meal is provided.

This money is not considered income and will not affect social security, public assistance, subsidized housing or other such programs. To be eligible for the program an applicant must be 60 years of age or older and have an income of less than $7,475.00 for a household of one, or have an income of less than $10,025.00 for a household of two persons.

The Program currently seeks volunteers in a variety of work settings in the Grayling area: Grayling Elementary School uses Foster Grandparents in the Special Reading Program. Students are assigned one at a time to work with the Foster Grandparent. Activities are planned, scheduled and supervised by the teacher.

Crawford-AuSable Daycare uses Foster Grandparents with their children. Grandparents currently spend their time with the infants and toddlers. They comfort, rock, feed and play with the children with supervision by daycare staff.

Frederic Elementary uses Foster Grandparents with students from varied classrooms. Students benefit from tutoring assistance and from a loving caring person to be available when others are busy.

River House Shelter can use Foster Grandparents to give the children who pass through their home comfort and stability. The love and time that a Foster Grandparent can give benefits these children with special needs.

If you are interested in volunteering for the Foster Grandparent Program, please call 517-356-3474 or write to: Northeast Michigan Community Service Agency, Inc., Foster Grandparent Program, 2373 Gordon Road, Alpena, MI, 49707.

HELPFUL IDEAS FOR SUCCESSFUL RETIREMENT

Learning Experience

Have you heard about elderhostels?

"Hostel" is defined as an inn providing supervised lodging for young travelers. They're usually inexpensive and comfortable, minus all the frills. Hostel is a word most often paired with "youth."

An elderhostel is something different, in a couple of ways. First of all, it's only for those 60 years old and older. Second, it's a learning experience, literally.

Elderhostels are gaining in popularity because they offer senior citizens the opportunity to enroll in low-cost residential academic programs. Many of these programs are located on college campuses nationwide; others take place in such sites as secondary schools, scientific field stations, state and national parks, museums, and theological seminaries.

One-week arts and science courses are taught by resident faculty members at more than 1,200 American colleges and universities. The subjects at elderhostels are also an opportunity for participants to explore subjects not normally found in traditional curricula. They range from canoe-building to skin-diving, from skiing to baseball literature.

Program participants stay in dormitories and eat at campus cafeterias. The average one-week course costs about $225.

For more information, contact: Elderhostel, 80 Boylston Street, Suite 400, Boston, MA. 617-426-8056.

BUDDY'S WORKSHOP Winterize Now To Save Worry Later

Autumn is a good time to take care of all those home maintenance jobs. In most areas, the weather is cooler. Now is the time, before the winter weather sets in, to take a look around your home and tackle those repairs you've been putting off.

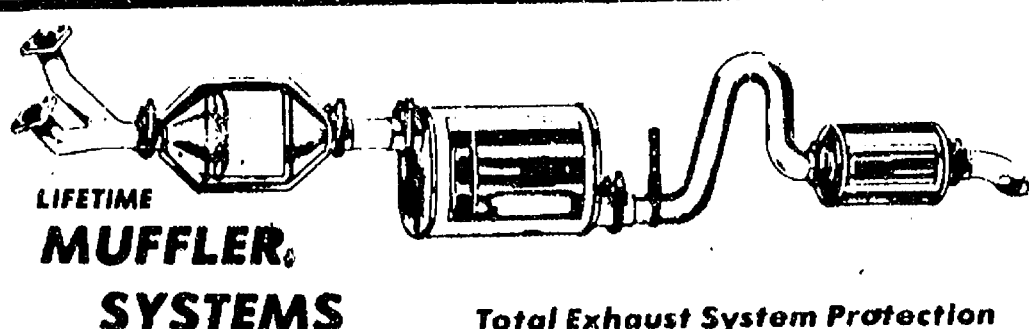

Do your windows need to be caulked, gutters cleaned out, loose shingles or shutters secured? What about insulating those water pipes or laying that extra insulation in the attic. And what about the weather stripping on the door that needs to be replaced?

Gaps around windows and doors let in cold air which can drive your heating bill up in the winter time. Loose or broken roof shingles can let in water and cause roof and interior wall damage. Gutters that don't drain properly can also force water up under shingles. And if you've worried about pipes freezing in severe weather, save yourself a rise in your blood pressure and do something about it now.

Autumn is also a good time to take care of those landscaping projects you've been thinking about. Trees and shrubs planted now can give your home a whole new look in the spring.

Give your home an inspection and make a list of what needs to be done, in order of importance. Then set aside a weekend or two and get busy. The time you spend now will save you money and aggravation in the future.

No Cholesterol Foods- Fact or Fiction?

By Gail Edwards
Your favorite doughnut shop now advertises "no cholesterol" doughnuts. Some of the foods you buy in the grocery store now say "no cholesterol" on the label. What does this really mean? Should it change the way you choose foods? How important is it that you choose "no cholesterol" foods? Can you avoid heart disease and continue to eat your doughnuts? Many of your favorite foods -- including doughnuts -- may have always been low in cholesterol. It depends whether the recipes have used eggs, whole milk and animal fats such as lard or butter, and how much of these ingredients were used.

The cholesterol in foods comes from animal fat. Egg yolk and organ meats are the greatest sources of cholesterol, and some is also provided by whole milk, butter, cheese, lard, meat, chicken, fish and poultry. Consequently, a doughnut recipe that used vegetable fat and no egg yolks or whole milk would have no cholesterol. The same is true for many food products. However, manufacturers have recently begun capitalizing on people's belief that cholesterol in food is bad. Therefore, we see more labels and advertising about no cholesterol in foods.

Lowering dietary cholesterol may be important for a person who has very high blood cholesterol levels. However, Judith Anderson, Extension food and nutrition specialist at Michigan State University, says research shows that the amount and type of fat in the diet is more important in lowering heart disease risk.

The National Institute of Health and the American Heart Association recommend that adults lower their fat intake to 30 percent of their total calories. Thus, a person who eats 2,000 calories a day can have 600 calories coming from the fat in food. That 600 calories comes from all types of fat -- saturated, polyunsaturated and monounsaturated -- and should be divided fairly equally among these sources, Anderson suggests.

In general, saturated fat sources are usually fats from animal foods, coconut and palm oils and chocolate. Common monounsaturated fat sources are olive oil and canola oil.

Polyunsaturated fat sources are vegetable oils such as corn, soy, safflower and sunflower oils. Most foods containing fats have a mixture of the three types of fat but are greater sources of one.

So what about that morning doughnut? If that is the only high fat food in your diet, it's probably all right.

FOOTBALL Contest

1st Place Wins $50 Each Week!

This week we have two winners with 18 correct, Heidi Mead and Ken Wyman. Heidi and Ken both picked their first tiebreaker to be 38 points. The second tiebreaker Heidi picked 40, Ken picked 28, and the actual score was 34 so they tied again. Ken and Heidi will have to split the $50.00 this week. Following close behind with 17 correct were Wayne Metzger, Jack Sietloff, Ace Worden, Nathan Mead, and William Ruddy.

There were 25 people that guessed correctly 16 games.

The overall leader after 10 weeks is Mike McNamara with 147. Following close behind are: Arthur Thayer 144, Heidi Mead 143, Mick McNamara 142, Ace Worden 141, Gary Derenzy 140, Marie St. Germain 139, Heather Derenzy and Steven Flick 137.

Don't forget the little surprise (or should we say big surprise) we have planned to make week 13 more challenging.

The Bible Speaks

The Gospel of John Part #104 Arraignment in Civil Court

Before we reach the Roman court, one of the greatest potential witnesses is lost by compromise. "And Simon Peter stood and warmed himself. They said therefore unto him, Art not thou also one of his disciples? He denied it, and said, I am not. One of the servants of the high priest, being his kinsman whose ear Peter cut off, said, Did not I see thee in the garden with him? Peter then denied again: and immediately the cock crew." (John 18:25-27). Peter was probably afraid to speak. "The fear of man bringeth a snare..." (Proverbs 29:25). Fear keeps many of us from speaking out for Jesus Christ even today.

Next we notice the perfidious witness of the Pharisees. They were conniving, deceitful, dishonest, disloyal, faithless, treacherous, traitorous hypocrites. "Then led they Jesus from Caiaphas unto the hall of judgment: and it was early; and they themselves went not into the judgment hall, lest they should be defiled; but that they might eat the passover." (John 18:28). Notice their phony self-righteousness? They were so religiously pious and clean in outward public appearance.

Next notice their phony slander of Jesus. "Pilate then went out unto them, and said, What accusation bring ye against this man?" (John 18:29). While Pilate was one of the worst rascals in the history of Roman government, he was still more fair than the Jewish religious leaders. Pilate demanded a criminal charge for arraignment. "They answered and said unto him, If he were not a malefactor, we would not have delivered him up unto thee." (John 18:30).

Finally, we observe the phony scheme of the Jews to kill Jesus even before He is proven guilty of any crime. "Then said Pilate unto them, Take ye him, and judge him according to your law. The Jews therefore said unto him, It is not lawful for us to put any man to death." (John 18:31).

God's prophecy bore perfect witness of what Jesus Christ was going to do. "That the saying of Jesus might be fulfilled, which he spake, signify what death he should die."

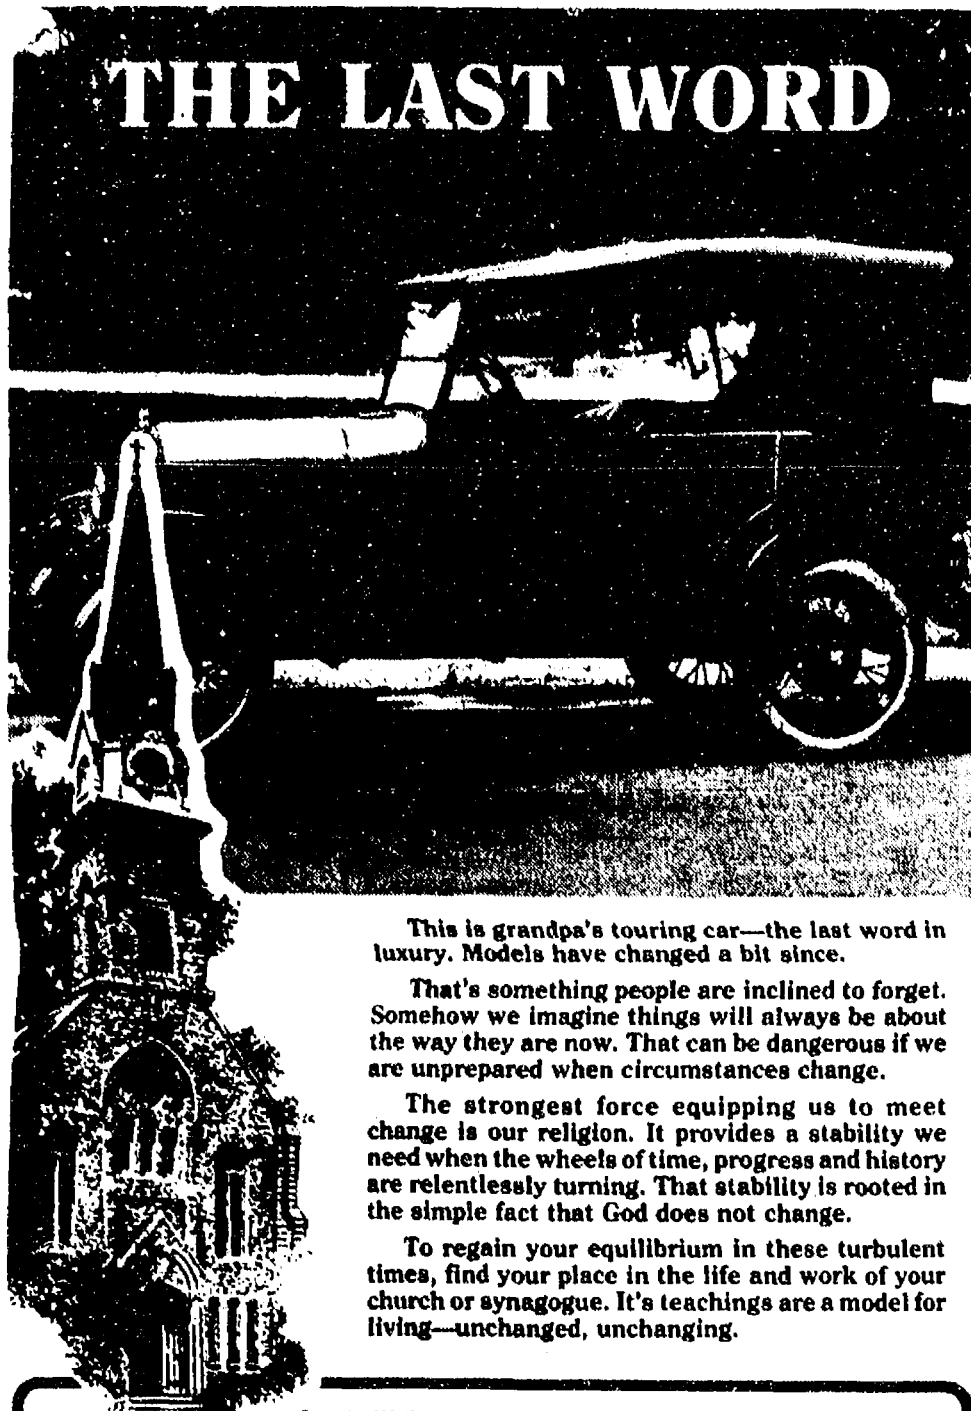

(John 18:32). "And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up... And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me. This he said, signifying what death he should die." (John 3:14; 12:32, 33). He died as an innocent substitute for the sins of His people. "Have you trusted Him as your Savior? (Hear, "The Bible Speaks" at 12:15 p.m. Tuesday on WQON 100 FM).

CHURCH DIRECTORY

THE LAST WORD

This is grandpa's touring car—the last word in luxury. Models have changed a bit since. That's something people are inclined to forget. Somehow we imagine things will always be about the way they are now. That can be dangerous if we are unprepared when circumstances change. The strongest force equipping us to meet change is our religion. It provides a stability we need when the wheels of time, progress and history are relentlessly turning. That stability is rooted in the simple fact that God does not change. To regain your equilibrium in these turbulent times, find your place in the life and work of your church or synagogue. It's teachings are a model for living—unchanged, unchanging.

Freezing Easy Way To Preserve Venison

By Gail Edwards,
EHE Cooperative
Extension Service

If there's a deer hunter in your family, you may find yourself with some venison to prepare this fall. Following are some special tips to follow to prepare and enjoy venison.

Freezing: Freezing is the easiest way to preserve venison. To prepare venison for freezing, trim away connective tissue and fat, the source of strong "gamey" flavor. Protect the meat by wrapping it in moisture resistant packaging materials, such as heavy aluminum foil, laminated freezer paper, thick plastic freezer bags, plastic film or combinations of the above, excluding air and preventing moisture losses wherever possible. Package in quantities your family will eat in one meal. Label each package with the date frozen, the specifics (e.g., venison) and cut of meat.

Freeze quickly to 0 degrees F or below. For best results, packages should be sharp frozen (-20 degrees F) in a commercial freezer. In a home freezer, freeze no more than 2 pounds per cubic foot of total storage space at one time. Overloading slows down the rate of freezing, and foods that freeze too slowly will lose quality or spoil. For quickest freezing, in a home freezer, place packages against freezing plates or coils and leave a space between packages so air can circulate freely. One inch of air space on each surface is adequate.

Once the packages of venison are frozen, they may be stacked. Keep the freezer temperature at 0 degrees F or below.

For best eating quality, use frozen ground venison within 2 to 3 months. Frozen venison steaks or roasts should be used within 8 to 12 months.

Canning: Venison may be canned according to USDA directions for canning beef, veal, pork, lamb and mutton. You may be interested in the recipes and information available in Extension bulletin E-667, Venison, "Upper Peninsula Style", available from the Cooperative Extension office, (517) 348-2841, ext. 284.

Keeping Healthy

Vision Screening
Vision screening is an important step in catching eye problems at an early stage. The American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP) recommends that all newborns be examined for eye problems and checked again at 6 months of age. Vision screening should begin by 3 to 4 years of age. In 1984, 33 states required school vision screening and 14 required preschool vision screening, according to the National Society to Prevent Blindness. Requirements vary by state.

The AAP school health manual states that a screening program should include a history of symptoms or signs described by the student, teacher or parent. These signs might include redness, tearing, swelling, blurred vision, pain in the eyes, squinting or head tilting.

Doodles from the Tall Timber

By Wendell L. Hoover
Hartwick Pines Interpreter

For a variety of reasons, some pleasant and some not so pleasant, I have been on the road a lot lately. The landscape, hither and yon, is pretty austere right now, with all the leaves off the trees and the green of the pines muted to a near black. One of the shrubs that sticks out at this time of the year is what we have called, "Michigan Holly". Its bright red berries are very conspicuous in the otherwise drab northland swamps.

The sources I have, call it Black Alder or Winterberry, while others claim it is also known in some areas as False Alder, Striped Alder, and White Alder. No matter what you choose to call it, this 3-10 foot tall shrub produces very showy, red berries, either singly or in clusters along the branches. The berries are a feast for our eyes and an attractive food source for birds. The shrubs are either male or female, which is a trait typical of the Holly Family. In all, there are four deciduous and six evergreen species of holly that occur in the United States.

There are two things to keep in mind about this shrub. First of all, it is unlawful to pick or gather the branches and secondly, while the birds may eat the berries, they are labeled as being poisonous in one source I have. Look, but do not touch.

Features

CAMERA SHY SWEETIE - Scrappy is a year old female, partially housebroken, mix breed who loves people and thrives on affection. She will bark to let her master know strangers are nearby and would make an excellent companion for someone who lives alone. Shelter hours are Monday through Friday from 1-3 p.m. and on weekends from 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. With winter around the corner the shelter is in need of old blankets, coats, sheets and towels to insulate between the animals and the shelter's cement floors.

Again, deer season is upon us. Some people plan their hunting trips for months. Others grab their rifle the night before the opener to see if it still works. Wherever you fit into this continuum of anticipation, I want to emphasize that you must maintain an attitude to safety when you head for your stand.

Whenever you are dealing with firearms you must be careful. Everyone who hunts should be aware of the three most important rules for safe gun handling: treat every gun as if it were loaded; always point the muzzle in a safe direction; and be sure of your target - and beyond. These are standard, common sense things. There are also certain times when you must be doubly alert, including:

When you have had just enough experience to think you know all the answers. Cockiness often leads to accidents, and is not limited to young hunters.

When you're carrying a gun over rough country or obstacles. You should unload your firearm

Resource Review

By Bruce Patrick
Conservation Officer

When the going gets rough. At least open the action.

When you're plinking or target practicing. This is when "horsing around" can lead to tragedy.

When you are tired. Reflexes and judgement decrease as carelessness increases.

When you first spot game. Don't let the excitement push all safety consideration out of your mind.

When somebody

forgets or ignores safety rules. Your best friend or your relatives are more apt to kill you in a hunting accident than a stranger. Don't allow foolishness.

When laws are violated. Having a loaded gun in a vehicle or failing to wear blaze orange are illegal - and stupid. As is handling a firearm after consuming alcohol or other drugs.

By using your head, you can prevent yourself from causing an accident, or being a victim.

Fortieth Anniversary

Forty years we've been together
Sharing both life's joys and tears
Many memories we share together
As we look back on those years

From the first time that I met you
When you were a young beauty of sixteen
I have always known I loved you
In the game of life I held a Queen

Though at times the road was rocky
We made the best of what we had
Our love brought forth our two children
I was so proud to be their Dad

Through the years so many memories
That I hold now like shining gold
All those years we've been together
Watching the days of our lives unfold

We've had our good ones and some bad ones
Times of joy and times of tears
But we've shared them together
Side by side through all the years

Now our Golden Years are on us
More time together now to share
If one should need a helping hand now
The others there to love and care

It is my hope that when ten years passes
We'll still have each other to love and hold
With forty years of life together
What do you say, LET'S GO FOR THE GOLD

A Look At Our Past

23 Years Ago

November 10, 1966
Mrs. William Kraus, Contestant Hostess, announced that Kristine Kathleen Gildner, Janet Elaine Stephan, Kary Lynn Wakeley, Karen Sue Wedge and Vicki Lynn Wells would be vying for the title of Miss Grayling 1967.

The menu for the St. John Lutheran Church Women's annual Danish Supper, held November 18, included escalloped potatoes, baked ham, frikadeller (Danish meat balls), baked beans, surkall (Danish cabbage), homemade rye bread, aebleskage (apple cake), pickled beets, Danish pickles and lots of coffee.

The launching of the nuclear-powered submarine, the USS Grayling, was postponed again. Originally slated to go down the ways on September 17, 1966, the launching was put back in August to February 25, 1976. Now that scheduled launching is set for June 7, 1967. Safety revisions which came to light because of the disastrous sinking of the USS Thresher necessitated the first postponement.

St. Francis Episcopal Church

broke ground on November 7 for a new parish house. The new parish house will give an additional 1500 sq. ft. of space to the existing building and will include a new kitchen, all-purpose room to be used for church school and for planned E.C.W. parish and community efforts.

The new structure will also house a new Vicar's study. The entire four game schedule of the Northern Class C Conference was wiped out last weekend by a heavy early fall of snow. The fluffy white stuff was over knee deep at the gridiron at the Grayling Memorial Recreation Area. Coaches and officials decided unanimously to completely cancel the final four game slate which would have seen East Jordan at Grayling, Gaylord at Pellston, Charlevoix at Harbor Springs and Mancelona at Boyne city.

Bob Strong II was the overnight guest of his parents Wednesday. He was enroute to Lansing to attend physical education meetings at the Jack Tar Hotel, but snow conditions forced him to stay over until roads were plowed open. He returned to Alpena Thursday afternoon.

Crawford County Schools were closed at noon Thursday because of the heavy snowfall.

46 YEARS AGO
November 11, 1943

While the deer hunting season doesn't begin until Monday, November 15th, the influx of hunters has already got a good start. Three camps had already been set up for nearly a week and more are starting up every day. Club houses and hunting lodges are booked to capacity. Today there is a light snow and if that continues nimrods won't have any trouble stalking their quarry. There are many deer, including bucks and eligible spikehorns. Ten enforcement officers have been assigned to Crawford county so it looks as though the Department intends to be pretty tough with violators.

Cemetery Committee report to council. We are now nearing the end for this season of the work started on August eighth for the rehabilitation of our two cemeteries. Here in substance is our report: Shade trees planted, 103; Evergreens planted, 62; area plowed up, dragged and seeded, 69,803 square feet, which represents the cross roads we closed up, and in addition to this area we have also spaded up and seeded all of the alley ways in and around the lots. Our first task was the cutting down of the weeds which in itself was quite a task. Following that we dug up many wagon loads of quack grass and obnoxious undergrowth which we used in the building of a foundation for all of the main roads which will be maintained permanently. The up-building of these permanent roads was quite an expensive task. In addition to the planting trees and seeding of this vast area we have also planted numerous iris and tulip bulbs. We are indebted to our Conservation Department for allowing us to take shade trees and evergreens from State lands.

Cemetery Committee, T. W. Hanson, Daisy Norris, C. J. McNamara.

Miss Thelma Papendick of Lansing spent the weekend here visiting her parents and also to see her brother Bob before he left for the service.

Mrs. Arthur Howse is the new teacher in the Frederic school.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Lozon are moving into their new home, the former Dennis farm.

Miss Hadlyn Wakeley of Lapeer spent a week with the Earl Madsens. The girls spent the time hunting partridges and sure "brought home the bacon."

Private Howard Moggo is home from Oakland, Calif., visiting his mother Mrs. Clayton Straehly and family. Howard is serving in the U.S. Signal Corps. He is also visiting his sister, Mrs. Albert LeBean at Roscommon. He will leave on his return trip the last of the week. He says he likes army life very much.

The Dore manufacturing Co. is in need of about 40 more men in their machine shop doing war work. Experience is not necessary. Here is the best chance to get good paying jobs right here at home.

69 YEARS AGO
November 11, 1920

J. C. Burton, Peter Davidson, Louis Heribson and Claude Gilson left Monday for their annual deer hunting trip to the upper peninsula. They will be gone for two weeks.

President Wilson asks the people of the nation to continue their memberships in the Red Cross. Chris Olsen is the chairman and Miss Anna Nelson the secretary of Crawford County.

Reuben Bebb has accepted a position at the A. M. Lewis drug store.

Mr. and Mrs. Newton Reagan and sons Edwin, Robert, Clement and Jeremiah of Bay City were in Grayling the latter part of the week attending the funeral of Newton's father, J. M. Reagan.

Frank Dresse has closed out his business and left Monday for the south. Mr. Dresse came here in 1914 and purchased the Mike Brenner bankrupt stock at an auction sale.

Mrs. Frank Shanahan returned Monday from Utica where she spent the week as guest of Miss Grace Carpenter.

Miss Dorothy Campbell, who is teaching school at East Jordan, was a guest of the A. J. Lewis home over the weekend.
